

MARIJA LAGINJA

First of all it was a privilege to be here. My experience at AIR Krems exceeded my expectation. I'm very grateful to Heidrun Schlögl – she was remarkably helpful and kind during my whole stay, and also to Sabine Güldenfuss always ready to cheer you up.

Accommodation, atmosphere and environment were also on the highest level. The whole experience was also a great opportunity to discover Austrian culture and art scene. Here I also have to say Thanks to Mr. Franz Sam who showed me some great pieces of the contemporary Architecture in the region. When I had applied through ORTE I didn't have clear vision what my project is going to be. I just wanted to improve public space since during my study that was the main focus of my interest.

Main observation was: Can we really call Krems the town on river? Is there opportunity to make this town recognize in the wider community.

Main preoccupation of this proposal is creating public space on the river banks... But lack of free space and speed of the river were/are the biggest boundaries.

PROJECT

After careful observation and taking in consideration economical situation in Europe I decided to go with:

MAXimum impact with MINimum means

At that time that seems like a logical choice. I wanted to see what and how can I design using minimum resources. I wanted to create one element that can be use on the river banks and after using you can easily reuse it...

During my stay I talk to many interesting people, I saw many interesting exhibitions and discover all beauty of Lower Austria. I can honestly say that I fell in love with picturesque landscape of Wachau valley and I'm looking forward to visit it again but during summer.

At the end this was unforgettable experience to work in Krems and to be able to meet so many nice people.

Thank you all once again that you make me feel like at home!"

MAXimum impact with MINimum means !

how to design outdoor furniture that people can use it on different ways?

problems
-different use/user
-money
-seasonality

sky is a limit...

- recycle
- making new landscape with one form
- playing, picnic, interact, relax, dance, enjoy

RECYCLE / REUSE

new kind of urban benches

